

Canadian Journal of Environmental Education

VOLUME 27, 2026

Canadian Journal of Environmental Education

Volume 27, 2026

The Canadian Journal of Environmental Education is a refereed journal published on an annual basis. It seeks to further the study and practice of environmental education by providing a thoughtful forum for researchers, scholars, practitioners, and post-secondary students. The publication and distribution of articles and reviews should contribute to Canadian thought and practice in environmental education and/or issues and practices of international importance to this field of study.

The views expressed in this journal are not necessarily those of the journal's editors, editorial board, or supporters. The Canadian Journal of Environmental Education publishes material that may represent divergent ideas, judgments, and opinions.

Production is made possible through the generous support of the Canadian Wildlife Federation, Simon Fraser University, Trent University, and Lakehead University.

Cover Artwork © Estella Kuchta

Copyright © Canadian Journal of Environmental Education

ISSN 1205-5352

The Ecologizing Editorship

Estella Kuchta, Maynooth University

Sean Blenkinsop, Simon Fraser University, British Columbia

Ramsey Affifi, Edinburgh University, Scotland

Sarah Anderson, Simon Fraser University, British Columbia

Elizabeth Boileau, University of Minnesota Duluth, United States

Ellen Field, Lakehead University, Ontario

Megan Tucker, Simon Fraser University, British Columbia

Editors Emeritus

Bob Jickling, Lakehead University, Ontario

Constance Russell, Lakehead University, Ontario

Blair Niblett, Trent University, Ontario

Emily Root, Fleming College, Ontario

Pat Maher, Nipissing University, Ontario

Copyediting

Estella Kuchta, Maynooth University

Layout & Design

Rusty Brown, Thunder Bay, Ontario

Advisory Editors

Mary Breunig, California State University - Sacramento, United States

Peter Cole, University of British Columbia, British Columbia

Pamela Courtenay-Hall, University of Prince Edward Island, PEI

Justin Dillon, University of Exeter, United Kingdom

Janet Dymont, Acadia University, Nova Scotia

Leesa Fawcett, York University, Ontario

Jo-Anne Ferreira, Griffith University, Australia

Annette Gough, RMIT University, Australia

David Greenwood, Lakehead University, Ontario

Paul Hart, University of Regina, Saskatchewan

Lisa Korteweg, Lakehead University, Ontario

John Chi-Kin Lee, Education University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong

Teresa Lloro-Bidart, California State Polytechnic University Pomona, United States

Heila Lotz-Sisitka, Rhodes University, South Africa

Christopher Reddy, Stellenbosch University, South Africa

Alan Reid, Monash University, Australia

Bonnie Shapiro, University of Calgary, Alberta

Robert Stevenson, James Cook University, Australia

Contents

Editorial

Environmental education: where do we go from here? The Ecologizing Editorship	5
---	---

Articles

From teacher doings to human beings: Ethical awakening in a wild pedagogies gathering Angelos Konstantinidis, U Zoe Theodosaki, Stelios Pantazidis & Georgia Tsismalidou	9
The Canada 2080 workshops: An arts-based activity to support climate change education Madeleine Orr, Delaney Orr, Lévy Corobow & Patricia Tedford	28
Ecologizing Bildung: (Re)framing five questions for future environmental education practice Sean Blenkinsop, Linda Wilhelmsson & Michael Paulsen	50
“Paying respect to the land”: Futures-making through land-based education in the face of climate change Carrie Karsgaard & Iris Catholique	73
Land-based education and place-based education: Mapping the terrain and resisting conflation Melissa Twance & Will Burton	96
Phenomenological writing at an island beach: Encouraging connection with nature . . . and its limits Pamela Courtenay-Hall	115
Business as usual but greener? Confronting colonialism in university responses to the climate and nature emergency Aida Mohajeri & Sharon Stein	137
‘The world is under threat and we had best get a move on’: Canadian climate activist teachers Paul Berger, Ellen Field, Sidney Howlett, Anh Thu Nguyen & Andrea Drewes	158

Messily mediating milieu: Enclothed cognition in environmental education Connie Svabo, Katrine Bergkvist Borch, Anja Mølle Lindelof, Catherine Bagnall & Jacob Andrew Malone	180
Transformational climate change education: A case study on using personalized assessment methods to support enduring engagement Nadia Delanoy & Rachelle Haddock	200
Community partner perspectives on course-based experiential learning in environmental studies: A case study H. Carolyn Peach Brown	223
Canadian environmental and sustainability education in preservice teacher education Douglas D. Karrow, Richard Kool, Maurice DiGiuseppe, Matthew Trafford & Madelyn (Maddie) Sturgeon	246
Layering participation pathways in school-based environmental education Geneviève Grégoire-Labrecque & Natasha Blanchet-Cohen	294
Exploring the limits of knowing and discovering Reverence: The fundamental shift from STEAM to CREATIVE Learning Shane Theunissen, Robyn Ashley & Megan MacLeod	312
Reviewers	329
Guidelines for Contributors	330